fifty elementary teachers who since last fall have spent an evening a week in the study of goals, methods, and materials under the direction of Dr. Walter M. Scruggs, of the zoology department at Eastern Illinois State College.

Representatives from each Decatur school, plus a number of administrators, have outlined an entirely new plan of instruction designed to make the teaching of elementary science one of the strongest assets of the system. In many systems it is the weakest.

Superintendent Feted

Mr. J. Harold Voshall, president of the Illinois Education Association and superintendent of schools Pittsfield, was honored by his faculty at a banquet on April 3 in appreciation of his services as superintendent. Mr. Voshall had presented his resignation to the boards of the elementary and high-school districts in order to accept a position with the John C. Winston Company. The teachers association, however, presented a resolution addressed to the local boards asking reconsideration of the resignation and reemployment of Mr. Voshall.

Mr. Voshall received an appropriate gift as an expression of the esteem in which his teachers hold him. He also witnessed an unveiling of his own portrait for permanent hanging on the walls of the high school. Mr. Charles W. Foster, president of the teachers association, was toastmaster. Dr. Claude E. Vick, I.E.A. Director of Professional and Public Relations, gave the address of the evening.

45b. Cardboard Model of a Set of Teeth.—For demonstration of toothbrushing technique. Basic wall chart "Why Do Teeth Ache?" for junior and senior high school use. Then for elementary use are added a Teacher's Manual outlining program and including helpful diagram of toothbrushing technique; Class Hygiene Check-Up Record; Individual Dental Certificates; and Giant Class Certificate.

46b. Suggestions for Effective Techniques of Utilizing Motion Pictures in the Classroom.—DeVry Bulletin No. 4. The five topics discussed are: Teacher Preparation; Pre-showing Discussion Period; Showing the Films; Post-showing Discussion Period; Evaluation Testing.

42b. 6 Steps to Safety.—Discusses all factors in safe pupil transportation. The attractive twenty-four page booklet covers bus driver training; pupil training; traffic hazards; organization and function of a pupil bus patrol; safety features in construction and operation of buses. Teachers and school officials concerned with pupil transportation will find this booklet most helpful.

47b. The Teacher Guidebook.—A practical working plan for a program in nutrition education. The purpose is not to suggest a new curriculum for the elementary school, but rather to show how nutrition education may be treated as an integral part of the whole curriculum. 64 pages.

48b. Motion Pictures Owned by or Relating to the American Railroads.—A sixty-three page booklet describing films which are available on loan by the various railroads as well as those for rental or sale by commercial distributors.
